Publications

Books authored

2013. Krise der Inflationkultur (Munich: Finanzbuch-Verlag). 320 pp.

The strongest criticisms of fiat money and central banking have been based on monetary considerations and on the theory of capital. By contrast, the repercussions of an inflationary monetary system on financial markets and on the use of wealth has been somewhat neglected. The present essay on the political economy of finance fills this gap. The central thesis is that, in a fiat money system, financial markets tend to turn into engines of destruction; they absorb excessive amounts of savings, facilitate the consumption of savings, and reinforce a culture of inflation that saps and undermines the economic foundations of civilisation.

American edition: Forthcoming (Auburn, Ala.: Mises Institute). Translation by Ruth and Robert Grözinger.

2008. The Ethics of Money Production (Auburn, Ala.: Mises Institute). xi + 280 pp.

Money is omnipresent in modern life, yet the production of money does not seem to warrant any moral assessment. This gap concerns most notably the moral aspects of modern monetary institutions – in particular banks, central banks, and immaterial money. The present work fills this gap with an interdisciplinary analysis combining political economy, realist philosophy, and Catholic moral doctrine. Its last part retraces the monetary history of the West since the 17th century. It concludes with a plea for monetary reform.

Spanish edition: Translation in progress by Joaquín Pérez Cano.

2007. Ordnung und Anarchie. Essays über Wirtschaft, Politik und Kultur [Social Order and Anarchy. Essays on Economics, Politics, and Culture] (Grevenbroich: Lichtschlag). 142 pp.
Essays on basic questions of a free society, such as natural law, the Catholic Church, the family, security, liberalism, government, democracy, labour unions, free-market economics, and the history of liberty. Contains both new and already published material.
1996. Logik der Währungskonkurrenz [The Logic of Currency Competition] (Essen: Management Akademie Verlag). xiii + 328 pp.
Under which conditions is currency competition possible and beneficial? According to the thesis defended in the present work, (a) competition is both possible and beneficial as far as precious metals and other natural monies are concerned; and (b) contrary to Hayek's famous proposal to create a system of competing paper currencies, no competitive market for paper or electronic currencies is viable on the unhampered market.
1993. Kritik der Dominanztheorie. [A Critique of F. Perroux's Theory of the Dominant Economy] (Frankfurt: R. G. Fischer). x + 153 pp.
According to François Perroux, the blind spot of conventional economic theory is power. He claims that economics has to be supplemented by a new theory of power and of dominant economies, which justifies far-reaching political interventions in the market process. The present book contains a systematic critique of Perroux's theory, both of its conceptual foundations and of its applications.

1992. Ordo-libéralisme et régulation – une comparaison conceptuelle et méthodologique (Toulouse: Cahiers de recherche de l'ESC Toulouse). 120 pp.

The German liberal Freiburg School of economics and the French Marxist School of Regulation are diametrically opposed in terms of theory and policy proposals. In this work, I try to show that these differences are rooted in different methodological approaches, which in turn stem from different epistemological perspectives on economic science.

English edition: 1992. Ordo-liberalism and regulation – a conceptual and methodological comparison (Toulouse: Cahiers de recherche de l'ESC Toulouse). 120 pp.
